

Land and Natural Resource Conservation Program

Sponsored by North County Land Trust
at your public library

Environmental pioneer Marion Stoddart and Janet Morrison, Esq., Executive Director of North County Land Trust, will share their insights into land and water conservation and protection, and what you can do to make a difference.

Please join us and also see a sneak preview of a film The Work of 1000 about the incredible story of Marion Stoddart and the clean up of the Nashua River, once one of the ten most polluted rivers in the country.

Learn from the experts. Leave inspired!

Land Conservation Projects in Lunenburg & North Central MA

Tuesday, June 2, 6:30 - 8PM
Lunenburg Public Library
1023 Massachusetts Avenue

"What I wanted to do was to make a difference in the world, which is what we all want to do—and can do."

—Marion Stoddart, founder Nashua River Watershed Association

North County Land Trust is donating a new book to the library edited by the local environmentalist, Charles H.W. Foster "Twentieth-Century New England Land Conservation: A Heritage of Civic Engagement."

Visit www.workof1000.com for film updates, events, and information.